

ONLINE TRAINING PROGRAM TO PROMOTE SUICIDE COUNTERMEASURES AT UNIVERSITIES

In recent years, the issue of suicide among university students has become serious.
There is knowledge and skills that university faculty and staff need to acquire to support the lives of students.
There are also countermeasures that universities as organizations can take.
Let's work together to create a university where no one is driven to suicide.

1 Overview of Suicide among University Students

Recent trends in student suicides, Underlying factors behind student suicides

Created by the Japan Suicide Countermeasures Promotion Center

For all university faculty and staff

2 Suicide Countermeasures —Individual Skills

Noticing suicidal students, listening with empathy, and connecting them to appropriate support

Lecturer: Professor Terumi Ishii
(Health Support Center, Waseda University)

Certificate of completion available

For health management staff

3 Suicide Countermeasures —Organizational Skills

Creating a university where no one is driven to suicide

Lecturer: Professor Hirokazu Tachikawa (Department of Disaster and Community Psychiatry, Institute of Medicine, University of Tsukuba)

Can review repeatedly

Access below to register for the e-learning and details.

<https://jscp.or.jp/english/children-guardians-shcool/campus.html>

"Lecture Attendance Manual" and "FAQs" are also available.

いのち支える

Hosted by the Japan Suicide Countermeasures Promotion Center
Supported by: the Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology; the Ministry of Health, Labour and Welfare; the Japan University Health Association; and the Japanese Association of College Mental Health Inquiries about the training program: campus@jscp.or.jp

* Training contents and URLs are subject to change or termination without notice. The information provided is current as of March 2025.